- c. There are no administrative costs associated with this change, only minimal rebranding and printing costs.

ACTION: AC supports moving the proposed change to the ASA agenda

- a. Jak - Governance has been especially interested in the Faculty Initiative Fund and is working on the process. Had asked for the Administrative Review reports to be made public, and are awaiting the responses by the chancellors. Have received permission to look at two goals in the Goals and Measures document, academic excellence and continuing to have high quality research. Will be creating a faculty task force across the system, to be complete by midOctober for the Board. Will be meeting with the executive committee senate tomorrow. The faculty are concerned about the post-COVID workplace agreement and will be discussing the revision to the policy in their upcoming FA meeting.
 - b. Gokhan - UAA Faculty Senate worked on the Goals and Metrics document and will continue working on it. Faculty Initiative Fund - Discussed having an impartial committee formed. There will be discussions regarding how to divide the funds. Will make a decision in the next couple of weeks.
 - c. Heather - UAS have not expressed having any objections to FA disperse the FIF funds.
 - i. UAS will be voting for the next chair and will be final tomorrow at 1:00pm
2. UA Press transition - Alex
- a. There was a change to university regulation. The UA Press has transitioned to a consortium with the University of Colorado. There will not be too much change in the day-to-day process. Employees may become UoC employees if they choose. Employees will maintain their physical presence at UAF. Under the agreement, production of books should increase from 15-18 books a year to 22-23 books a year. There will also be a couple of designated spots on the University of Colorado Press Board of Advisors for representatives.
3. ASA Committee Agenda - Paul
- a. Accreditation Reports - Reviewed
 - i. Regent Perdue has asked for a review of our policy regarding accreditation. The current policy is very brief and does not describe anything about what we normally do, which is reporting to the Board on the status of accreditation, or any other aspects of that.

b. Program Reviews - Review

The DoL is using a new program to manage that list, which has created some additional administrative work. Ensuring as many programs that are eligible are on that list. Hoping by early fall, that we will have it as up to date as possible. The more that are on it, the better it is for our students that need it. Looking at feedback from the TVEP process.

- e. Maren - Recommends disbanding the eLearning Council. The projects that have gone through eLearning can be evaluated by more targeted committees. Faculty are back on contract. Had convocation. Had a larger new set of faculty than in prior years. Chancellor Carey's husband passed last week. He was laid to rest today. She did start a memorial scholarship fund. Will return to Juneau today.

ACTION: Paul will send out a memo disbanding the eLearning Council. Maren asks that we invite members from the committees that are currently working on (eLearning working groups on the next agenda)

- f. Denise - Meeting with new faculty. Will have convocation next Friday. In the College of Business and Public Policy, have hired John Nocksinger as Dean, and in the College of Engineering have hired Kenrick Mock, and in the College of Arts and Sciences, Dr. Jenny McNaulty, who briefly served as Provost of the University of Montana Western and before that served as interim Dean at the University of Montana and Missoula Arts and Sciences.
